Crime Patrol, has teamed up with the creators of The Creeper, Twinmoon.

VirtualCop: Crime Patrol is an action adventure game inspired by the popular show "COPS", in which the player takes on the role of a cop; working in a virtual version of New York City. The player is given a series of cases while "debugging" the system against crime and corruption. The player will engage in a series of tasks such as interviewing suspects, reviewing tapes, viewing surveillance photos and making arrests. Story: Police Officer Eyes Based on the phenomenally popular cartoon show, "COPS" Play as a crime-fighting rookie as you become the eyes and ears of the police force, making sure the "bad guys" are put away. We begin this week's show on a bit of a somber note. There have been several news reports in recent days, including one from CNN, that say that the "American Dream" is dead. But no dream has ever been "American" -- not the dream of owning your own farm or business, but the Turns: Four Difficulty: Normal Description: The world has been reduced to a seemingly eternal, recurring nightmare. The sun has apparently been eclipsed and the world has entered its darkest time. The nuclear threat has returned and, for the sake of humanity, you must find the fabled "Hand of Doom" and destroy it. The Earth has been completely ravaged, leaving nothing but dust and ash. A defeated enemy appears to be locked in a spiritual conflict with the Goddess, who is now dead. The only source of hope, the three guardians of the Balance have been locked away by you, son of the Goddess. With one down, two to go. Now that the initial chain of events have occurred, the planet is unraveling from within; the Gaia is being torn to pieces and the world is dying. You must now attempt to travel back in time to the Age of Ancients and stop the happening of history from happening in a desperate race to save your universe and mankind. The Shadowkeep (good) As many miles of sea as land (neutral) An ancient king in exile (bad) The Destiny Core (good) The Age of Ancients (good) All chances of a good ending (good) Your Actions and Consequences: The game takes place on the planet Earth in the year 2157, of the 26,000-year-old Age of Ancients, some three thousand years after the Goddess's death. As son of the Goddess, you are the only one who can stop the spread of the virus and seal the Gaia. However, the Guardians of the Balance have been imprisoned inside the castle of the evil King. To change the past, you must either slay the king and set his soul free or try to prevent the death of your mother and the destruction of the planet. On your journey you will encounter ancient artifacts, other creatures and the human survivors. Additionally, you'll be aided by the Goddess through the use of her Medallion.

You'll need to make tough choices, because there's no going back, and your decisions will affect the events that may lead to a good end or a bad one. The game offers the player three main missions: the first two in the Castle of the Dark King, the second in The Age of Ancients and the final on the Gaia. Gameplay: Players can use their own DOS account for playing this game. DOS users can play with a keyboard and mouse, or trackball if they prefer. There's

Fishing Planet () is a 2015 South Korean animated adventure comedy family film. It is based on a children's online game Where is My Snail?, which was released on Naver's "Creative Storybook" portal website in 2009. The film features the voice of Joo Won. This movie was created with the help of characters from the online web cartoon "Where is My Snail?", published by Culture-Media. The film was produced by Studio Dragon and originally released to South Korean cinemas on August 16, 2015. The film was a major commercial success and became one of the highest-grossing South Korean films in 2015. Plot The story of "Fishing Planet" takes place in the fictional land "Silverlake." The land is represented by a planet that is approximately 1,300 kilometers in diameter, and it revolves around two suns located on the equatorial. The Kingdom of the Moon (Moon kingdom) is in the best position on this planet: The Moon kingdom itself is the sun and the earth is in the Moon kingdom is the planet. In the past, Moon kingdom has been a land of fish and bananas. Although there were no relationships between people and animals, an age of peace had never even started. Anyway, this kingdom is once again in need of a leader. Fortunately, down on Earth there is a man with a light, which he calls the "sky hall." The people who lose this light will be harmed. The leader of the Kingdom of the Moon is none other than Go Eun-sung (Joo Won), a raccoon, and Moon princess Joo Yun-hee (Joo Won), his fiancée. They are "sacrificed" to protect Silverlake from being polluted by the fish. But he feels this is his own mission, and therefore he takes this position as a sacrifice. If he completes this mission, he will be rewarded with the title of Queen. His skills for judgement, judgment, and vision of scent differentiate him from the others and he is the God of the King Castle. Though Go Eun-sung has been managing the kingdom for a while, things are not actually ideal either. He was unable to follow the prejudice of the past leaders, so he spent his time pondering everyday life and even told the children to learn not to discriminate against people based on their differences. The scene changes to how Go Eun-sung
