Q: org-mode before-save-hook title string in org-insert-heading I just started using org-mode and I'm trying to generate a headline on a new org-entry before saving. #+NAME: new_entry #+BEGIN_SRC python :results dynamic :session my_session def new_file_header(): return "*****This is a new test *****" #+END_SRC I'm using the before-save-hook to save my org-file, but I'd like org-mode to insert the message "*****This is a new test *****" just before saving. Is there a way to do this? A: Just add the text to your before-save-hook: #+NAME: new_entry #+BEGIN_SRC python :results dynamic :session my_session def new_file_header(): return "*****This is a new test *****" #+END_SRC #+BEGIN_SRC emacs-lisp (set (make-local-variable 'org-insert-heading-alist) '((my_session "new_entry". ("This is a new test")))) #+END_SRC For more info, see: Edit: For a more generic solution, you could also check the file for any known presence of the string and change it if so. (defun my-org-insert-header () "Insert `this is a new test' before `file 1.org'." (if (re-search-backward "a new test" (point-min) (line-end-position)) (progn (goto-char (match-beginning 0)) (delete-region (match-beginning 0) (match-end 0))) (progn (insert "this is a new test") (goto-char (match-beginning 0)) (delete-region (match-beginning 0

Q: Error with Controller and View in Codeigniter in the same line I'm just starting with Codeigniter, just found out I can get big blogs in codeigniter like this... $this->load->view('blog/header'); $this->load->view('blog/navbar'); $this->load->view('blog/list'); $this->load->view('blog/footer'); But a few minutes later I'll get this error: Severity: Notice Message: Undefined property: posts_view::$data Filename: libraries/MY_Loader.php Line Number: 3780 The error actually appears in the line of the view, when I tried commenting the the line $data = $this->input->post(); I got no error. I don't understand what's happening, and where should I look for a solution. A: The problem was in the auto load of the view. I was loading the view before the controller. Q: Google Maps API v3 - Tracking Location I am using Google Maps API v3 to track Location. The API has not been activated for mobile apps. I am not getting any response when I send location as JSON. Any idea? A: Indeed, a new location is not identified by its position alone, it needs the previous two-tuple (the latitude and longitude coordinates) to get another location. You need to calculate the difference between a previous one and the new one and pass this information to the API as an option: var newLatLng = new google.maps.LatLng(50.345631, -2.670853); var latLng1 = new google.maps.LatLng(40.7, -3.8); var latLng2 = new google.maps.LatLng(50.345631, -2.670853); var distance = google.maps.geometry.spherical.computeDistanceBetween(latLng1, latLng2); var steps = 10; var delay = steps * 1000 * 6; // six seconds = 1 minute // Prepare the request var request = { origin: latLng1, destination: latLng2,
