I'm sure you guys get this all the time, but if not, don't forget that Notepad++ makes a really simple way to add icons to your computer, including Mac. But can it import...the icons, well, specifically the folders? When I open up my Notepad++ installation folder, I only see a few folders with the following names:.chm,.wav, and.dir. I would want the documents folder to appear under the Documents subfolder of the data folder. If possible, this shouldn't be a huge deal, but I would rather just get a better reading while exporting the text to Dropbox. a dansa Fropa dansa ("Love dance";) is a 1927 Czech romantic comedy directed by Lávis Vaněk, starring Jaroslav Závada. It is based on a Czechoslovakian play by Jiří Frej called Floráda (which was based on Hanka Vítková's novel of the same name). It is considered the most successful of Vaněk's films and has been described as "among the world's first 'Roaring Twenties' musical comedies". Its success is attributed to the song and dance routines led by Závada and the popular actress Olga Chemyková. Plot summary Bohuš, a shy young man who lives with his older sister Marika, comes into the possession of a secret diary. In the diary, Marika describes the events of her and her boyfriend Anton's life, dated six months after marriage, and focuses mainly on the fact that Anton has spent the last six months alone with her, without his closest friend and co-worker Feliks and the couple's son Kasínka. This story comes as a relief to Bohuš, who feels isolated and alienated from his family. So Bohuš goes to see Feliks, and it transpires that the marriage was not a complete success. Feliks reveals that this fate was not the first time that he had found himself in such a state – he was in the same situation ten years before his marriage, and he even has heard a rumor that his first wife, Olga, like Marika, was a diary owner. So Feliks suggests that he and his friend Jaroslav Kladenik have a talk with Bohuš. On the way, Feliks reveals to Jaroslav something that he has never told to anyone, saying that he does not regret having been previously married – in fact, he claims he wants to do it again soon. The friends later meet the Reverend Jirik. After hearing their friend's story, the Reverend decides to marry Feliks and return him to his previous wife. He proposes that the couple be permitted to return to Brno. They take every thing in hand to marry as soon as possible. On the way to the wedding, the friends pass by the neighborhood of Marika, who is surprised to see them all so suddenly. They tell her that Feliks would very much like to have some

"After some botch ups on the shelving of our game on Steam, the team was able to recreate an official version with all the original assets/gameplay and is in its final stages of testing. Make sure to check it out on: Also looking forward to your continued support as we continue to ensure high quality content for this game. Have fun!" - Drew Labatie. Deadwood is a tactical PVP Shooter with a surprisingly deep gameplay. - Easy to pick up and play - Hurry up to find other players, pick up weapons and become a force on the map. Hold the barrier to keep your team alive. - NPC kills are punishing, there is no auto-aim so you can keep a close control on your enemy. - Rebalance of weapons, what was once the best weapon is now a slow-firing RPG with a weaker rate of fire, the overpowered Shotgun from the previous version is now a regular Shotgun. andrew afte will be reworked, and there will be more content added. this is the first build. there are still lots of bugs and lots of rework to do, but hopefully it will be done by the end of this year. will have about 80% complete by the end of the year. As I look at the new updates on the forums the game has grown from a cute tactical game to a mess. If you can't see that you need to re read the updates. Q: Is the latest patch the last one? A: No. Q: Is the latest patch content planned for the end of 2012? A: Yes. Thanks for the new update, is this going to have more of a resource collecting aspect of the game rather than building there own base? I know it is a PVP game, but a lot of the updates seems like it is going towards making the game more like a survival game. -PVP is the main focus of the game - Player management and a tracking system for your player pool - New Player cards, (so we know who to trash) - Added some game modes - New Map. - Goal is to scavenge for weapons. - There is a resource management system for use on maps and weapons. (each gun has a "use rate" and a "give rate". use rate means how much is left for them to recover and recover rate means how much is returned
